20th Annual Trillium Book Award Shortlist Announced Ontario literary excellence continues to flourish

TORONTO – Six English and five French books have been short-listed for the 20th Annual Trillium Book Award/20^e édition du Prix littéraire annuel Trillium, the Ontario government's prestigious award for literature.

Celebrating its twentieth anniversary, the Trillium Book Award is among the most highly regarded literary prizes in Canada. Ontario's vibrant publishing industry is both an important cultural and economic contributor to the Province's wealth.

The Trillium Book Award/Prix Trillium encourages excellence in literature through its significant investment in Ontario-based writers. Award recipients for both English and French works receive $20,000. Their respective publishers also receive $2,500 to promote the winning titles. All finalists receive a $500 honorarium.

Three English titles were short-listed for the Trillium Book Award for Poetry, which recognizes literary achievement for a first, second or third published work of poetry. New this year for authors writing in French is the Trillium Book Award for Children's Literature. This Award will be offered every two years, alternating with the Trillium Book Award for Poetry in French. The winner for each of these awards receives $10,000 and their publisher $2,000 for promotion of the titles. Finalists for these awards also receive a $500 honorarium.

"On behalf of the province and the people of Ontario, I congratulate all the finalists. They, and the publishers who nurture their talents, enrich our lives and make our province a better place to live." said Minister of Culture Caroline Di Cocco. "We're proud to support our writers through these awards because we recognize that artists reflect the best of who we are to ourselves and to the world."

"This year's finalists join a host of distinguished authors who have won the Award over the past 20 years," notes Kevin Shea, Chair of Ontario Media Development Corporation, which administers the awards. "This year, past Trillium Book Award winners Margaret Atwood, Alice Munro and Michael Ondaatje are nominated for the International Man Booker Prize, and Michèle Matteau and Daniel Poliquin are finalists for this year's Prix des lecteurs de Radio-Canada."
